Philosophy Statement

The Nurtured Heart Approach is about creating relationships that support success and positive choices in children. It is a way of transforming children and adults, so that they build lasting, intrinsic values for greater self-esteem and success!

As an advanced certified trainer in The Nurtured Heart Approach, I strive to help families and teachers see that with a little work and guidance, they can have a peaceful and nurturing environment in their home and classroom. By working together you will begin to understand how negative reactions to disruptive behavior actually perpetuate the unwanted behavior.

I will demonstrate how to reverse this process, by cultivating a positive approach, so that family and school relationships drastically improve. Children will begin to feel their greatness, and through this greatness, seek out relationships with adults and other children in a positive and loving manner. My goal is to Inspire

Greatness in you as a parent or teacher and to help you to Inspire Greatness in your kids or students.

I empower parents and teachers to develop harmonious relationships with children through the use of The Nurtured Heart Approach!!
